ANNOUNCEMENT

AFRICAN NUTRITION LEADERSHIP PROGRAMME

Application Deadline:
22 September 2024, 13:00 CAT

We are pleased to invite mid-career professionals working in nutrition or related fields within government, NGOs, or academia to apply for the 23rd African Nutrition Leadership Programme (ANLP). This intensive 10-day programme is designed for individuals who are committed to enhancing their leadership skills and self-awareness.

Participants can expect a transformative experience that emphasizes leadership practice, networking, reflection, and personal growth. Upon completion, you will leave with an extensive pan-African network, a renewed sense of purpose, and the confidence to lead effectively from your current position.

The course is conducted in English, so participants are expected to have a good command of the language. The programme is fully residential and in-person, with a maximum of 30 participants. Due to high demand, we may consider hosting a second 10-day programme in 2025.

We eagerly anticipate this upcoming event and appreciate your role in helping to foster leadership skills across Africa.
